I presented two papers at ASWC 2008 in Bangkok. One was my own: Ralf Krestel, Ling Chen - "The Art of Tagging: Measuring the Quality of Tags" and the other was Rene's: Rene Witte, Thomas Gitzinger - "Semantic Assistants – User-Centric Natural Language Processing Services for Desktop Clients". Attached a photo of myself explaining the future work for the semantic assistants :) Nice conference, nice people, nice country and - compared to Canada and Germany - very nice weather!

Thanks for presenting our paper!

Good to know there are still people who are not so important that they can't travel to conferences anymore ;)
