Call for Demos - NLDB'2014

18-20 June 2014 - Montpellier, France

<http://www.nldb.org/>

The 19th International Conference on Application of Natural Language to Information Systems (NLDB'2014) invites submissions of demonstrations of state-of-the-art research or industrial prototypes related to all aspects of Natural Language in the Database and Information Systems field.

Topics of interest include but are not limited to:

- Applications of NLP in Information Systems
- Social Media and Web Data
- Big Data and Natural Language
- Semantic Web and Open Linked Data
- Question Answering (QA)
- Natural language and Ubiquitous Computing
- Natural Language in Conceptual Modeling
- NLP Applications (Opinion Mining, Information Extraction, ?)

Demo submissions will be handled online via the easychair conference management system:

<https://www.easychair.org/conferences/?conf=nldb2014demonstration>

Demonstration paper submissions should have 4 pages (LNCS format). Developers should outline the design of their system and provide details to allow the evaluation of its validity, quality, originality, and relevance to NLP in Information Systems.

The accepted papers for demos will be included in the conference proceedings, to be published by Springer Verlag in the "Lecture Notes in Computer Science" (LNCS) Series. The demos will be presented in a special demonstration session. At least one of the demo submitters must register for the conference, and perform the demo on site.

Important Dates:

- Demo submission deadline (firm): March 13, 2014

- Notification of acceptance: March 28, 2014
- Camera-ready paper due: April 7, 2014
